Life Centers Pregnancy Center Opens in Avon

AVON—Life Centers, a Christian non-profit that helps women in unplanned pregnancies, will hold a Grand Opening open house for its newest pregnancy resource center in Avon on Sunday, Feb. 28, 1-3pm.

“We are aware of the growing need for free services to women in unplanned pregnancies in Hendricks County,” Brian Boone, Life Centers president and CEO, said. “We’re grateful that now these women and their families will have closer access to our life-affirming outreach.”

At Life Centers’ eight pregnancy resource centers across Central Indiana, volunteers and staff administered more than 20,000 free services last year including pregnancy tests, ultrasounds, confidential peer counseling, 24-hour Help Line calls, maternity support and post-abortion healing groups.

Life Centers is leasing space in Kingsway Community Care Center, the facility of a non-profit organization which offers medical services to an underserved population.

“When we were presented the opportunity to occupy space within the Kingsway Community Care Center, we found the partnership was natural,” Boone said. “While these two non-profits remain distinct, the clients who seek out the services of each organization will have a seamless experience. For many reasons, this location for our outreach is ideal.”

Life Centers, formerly named Central Indiana Crisis Pregnancy Center, previously operated a center in Avon that served thousands of women in Hendricks County until that building closed in 2006 with the anticipation of relocation.

“We are excited to have a presence in Hendricks County once again,” Brian Boone, Life Centers president and CEO, said. “Life Centers continues to seek committed volunteers, nurses and physicians who live in or near this growing county and are eager to join us in our life-saving, life-changing mission.”

The Avon Pregnancy Center open house will take place 1-3pm at the Kingsway Community Care Center, located at 107 Park Place Blvd in Avon. Visitors are encouraged to bring donations of diapers and baby bottles. The Avon Pregnancy Center is regularly open Monday, Tuesday, and Thursday, 1-5pm.
